On December 4, 2012, the Fifth International Seminar on Chinese CSR Report jointly sponsored by China WTO Tribune and China Business Council for Sustainable Development was solemnly held in Beijing. During the event, the winners of the CSR Report Golden Bee Award were announced. China Nonferrous Metal Mining (Group) Co., Ltd. (CNMC), the holding company of CNMCL, won the “Golden Bee 2012 Excellent CSR Report · Leading Enterprise” title. This is yet another award of the same kind won by CNMC after the “Golden Bee 2011 CSR Report Chinese Leading Enterprise Award” in June 2012.

The Fifth “Golden Bee 2012 Excellent CSR Report” Award is given to 12 Leading Enterprises selected upon careful appraisal from 1,283 companies which have issued CSR reports in China in 2012. Initiated in 2007 by China WTO Tribune, the “Golden Bee Award” has become one of the most influential awards in China’s CSR field. “Golden Bee Enterprises” are representatives and symbols of the sustainable development mode. While creating economic interests for themselves and meeting social demands, they also establish a harmonious and coexisting relationship with the environment and society. As a pioneer and pacesetter in “going out” for China’s nonferrous metal industry, CNMC has insisted on actively fulfilling its social responsibilities at home and abroad and achieving leap-forward development during its global operation. When carrying out international operations and participating in international competition, it adheres to the social responsibility concepts of “releasing resources value and jointly building social harmony.” Operating in a responsible manner, it has won recognition and support from the governments and communities of the areas housing its projects. Its responsible image has gained it increasing international influence.
