CNMCL's Holding Group Ranking Among "World Top 500"

On July 8, 2013, Fortune Magazine published 2013 "World Top 500" list. CNMCL's holding group, China Nonferrous Metal Mining (Group) Co., Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as CNMC), ranks 482nd with a business income of 24.1462 billion USD. Among the 18 Chinese companies newly included in the list, two are central enterprises and CNMC is one of them.

CNMC was founded in 1983. Its main businesses include development of nonferrous metal mineral resources, building engineering, and the relevant trade and services. In China's nonferrous metal industry, it is the first to "go out" and have the most successful international cooperation. In recent facing the ever-changing external years, economic environment both at home and abroad, CNMC has been working hard to make progress by following the guidance of its 1-2-3-4-5 strategy --- "one direction, two markets, three leaps forward, four doubling increases, and five steps up." It has perfected a complete industry chain covering geological prospecting, mining and dressing, smelting, processing, trade, logistic, design, construction, supervision, and equipment manufacturing. Now, it runs its businesses, which involve more than 40 nonferrous metal varieties, in over 80 countries and regions. It has managed to upgrade its comprehensive strength and achieve leap-forward development. Compared with the beginning of the "Eleventh Five-year Plan" period, CNMC had increased its total asset, business income, and total profit by 15, 30, and 7 times, respectively, by the end of 2012.

According to Luo Tao, chair of the board of CNMCL and president of CNMC, ranking among "World Top 500" is a full affirmation and high praise for the hard work by the over 60,000 cadres and workers of CNMC at home and abroad. Meanwhile, it gives great impetus and encouragement to CNMC for its building itself into a century brand. CNMC will the honor an opportunity to make greater use as forge ahead towards becoming achievements, to world-class enterprise with international competitiveness, and make greater contribution to China's economic to development and the world's economic prosperity.