

NFCA Carrying out 2013 “Safety Month” Activities

NFCA, an enterprise of CNMCL in Zambia, has successfully carried out its 2013 “Safety Month” activities, which focus on “enhancing safety basis and promoting safety-based development.”

NFCA has carried out the “Safety Month” activities for seven consecutive years, during which, it has sincerely put into practice CNMCL’s traditional corporate culture ideas such as “Safety First” and “No Production without Safety.” This year’s theme is to “enhance safety basis and promote safety-based development.” The activities mainly included the “Safety Month” mobilization, a complete work safety examination, special work safety training, work safety quiz competition, field handling of work safety, drafting, printing, and issuing of the Work Safety Manual, and the Sixth Corporate Internal First Aid Contest.

This year’s “Safety Month” activities lasted for 45 days. With a series of diversified and distinctive safety publicity and education events for grassroots employees, the activities have enlarged their participation and involvement, created a favorable work safety atmosphere, greatly upgraded the employees’ safety awareness, and enhanced their initiative in soundly fulfilling their work safety duties. Since the beginning of this year, NFCA has maintained a good momentum in work safety performance.

Employees taking part in the safety quiz competition

NFCA management participating in the mimic first aid contest

Mimic first aid contest