

NFCA Holding a Meeting on Its Work Arrangement and Work Safety in 2013

(Wang Chunlai, executive director and DCEO of CNMCL and president of NFCA)

giving some concluding remarks

(A panorama scene of the meeting) (Signing work safety responsibility bond)

On January 10, 2013, Zambia local time, NFC Africa Plc

(NFCA), a CNMCL enterprise in Zambia, held a meeting on its work arrangement and work safety in 2013. The meeting seriously summed up the company's work in 2012 and arranged its overall production and operation in 2013.

During the meeting, Zhang Jinjun, executive vice president of NFCA, made a work report on behalf of the company. The report fully affirmed the active progress and remarkable achievements made by all employees of the company for attaining the annual production and operation goals. The report also put forward concrete requirements for all the work in 2013 based on the company's production and operation conditions, and the new situation, new tasks, and new challenges it faces. According to the work guidelines and operation targets for 2013 and considering the requirements for the ongoing management upgrading, "Six Effective Managements" are set for 2013. First, effective human resources management should be achieved to create an atmosphere of solidarity and cooperation. Second, effective production organization management should be achieved to ensure gradual increase in output. Third, effective training and education management should be achieved to guarantee safe and efficient production. Fourth, effective cost-reducing and efficiency-increasing management should be achieved to upgrade economic income. Fifth, effective key project management should be achieved to guarantee project progress and quality. Sixth, effective scientific innovation management should be achieved to set higher technical and economic indicators.

On behalf of NFCA, executive vice president Zhang Jinjun signed 2013 Safety Responsibility Bond with NFCA production departments and units, and the relevant contractors. NFCA vice president Zhang Donghongxiang explained the examination plan of 2013 Economic Responsibility System. On behalf of NFCA, vice president Zhou Liang made the 2012 Work Safety Report, made arrangement for work safety in 2013, and put forward the goal of making 2013 a year with good safety records. Chief engineer Fang Hongrun introduced the progress of the capital construction of the Southeast Ore Body. Wang Chunlai, executive director and DCEO of CNMCL and president of NFCA, gave some concluding remarks and put forward three requirements: 1. clarifying task goals and strengthening confidence in development; 2. enhancing cost control and upgrading profit-earning capability; 3. taking practical measures to improve work attitude and upgrade work efficiency.

The meeting was presided over by Pan Jincheng, vice president of NFCA. NFCA management members, all Chinese employees, and chiefs of several project contractor units such as JCHX Company, Sinomine Resource Company, and Zhongdu Company attended the meeting.

(By courtesy of NFCA)